Tax:	Sales and Use	Author:	Klehs
Related Bills:	SB 1449 (Migden)

BILL SUMMARY

This bill would impose a 40 percent penalty upon a person who knowingly collected sales tax reimbursement or use tax and failed to timely remit that tax to the Board, except as specified.

Summary of Amendments

The amendment to this bill since the previous analysis makes a technical nonsubstantive change.

ANALYSIS

Current Law

Under California's Sales and Use Tax Law, sales tax is imposed on all retailers for the privilege of selling tangible personal property in this state, unless otherwise exempt. Under Section 1656.1 of the Civil Code, whether a retailer may add sales tax reimbursement to the sales price of the tangible personal property sold at retail to a purchaser depends solely upon the terms of the agreement of sale. The law presumes that the parties agreed to the addition of sales tax reimbursement to the sales price of tangible personal property sold at retail to a purchaser if:

- (1) The agreement of sale expressly provides for such addition of sales tax reimbursement;
- (2) Sales tax reimbursement is shown on the sales check or other proof of sale; or
- (3) The retailer posts at his or her premises in a location visible to purchasers, or includes on a price tag or in an advertisement or other printed material directed to purchasers, a notice to the effect that reimbursement for sales tax will be added to the sales price of all items or certain items, whichever is applicable.

Under Section 6203 of the Sales and Use Tax Law, an out-of-state retailer that is engaged in business in California is required to collect use tax on sales made to California consumers and remit that tax to the Board. Under the law, the tax collected by the retailer constitutes a debt owed by the retailer to the State.

The Sales and Use Tax Law provides for a variety of penalties for a person's failure to comply with the law. However, the law does not provide for a specific penalty attributable to situations in which a taxpayer knowingly collects sales tax reimbursement or use tax and fails to timely remit the tax.

Under the law, there are penalties that are mandatory and imposed automatically, such as those imposed because payments are made late or returns are filed after the due date, and there are others that are discretionary and that may be assessed as a result of an audit. The main penalties that are imposed are summarized as follows:

Nature of Penalty	Rate	Section
Failure to file a return	10%	6511
Negligence or intentional disregard of the laws or regulations	10%	6484
Fraud or intent to evade the law or regulations	25%	6485
Knowingly not obtaining a valid permit in order to avoid the tax	50%	7155
Improper use of a resale certificate for personal gain or to evade the tax	*	6072; 6094.5
Registration of vehicle, vessel, or aircraft out-of-state to evade the tax	50%	6485.1; 6514.1
Failure to obtain evidence that operator of catering truck holds valid seller's permit	$500	6074
Failure of retail florist to obtain permit	$500 	6077

* 10% of the tax due or $500 whichever is greater

**Plus any other applicable penalty

Proposed Law

This bill would add Section 6485.2 to the Sales and Use Tax Law to provide that any person who knowingly collects sales tax reimbursement, as defined, or use tax, and who fails to timely remit that sales tax reimbursement or use tax collected to the Board, shall be liable for a penalty of 40 percent of the amount not timely remitted.

The bill would exclude from the proposed penalty any person whose liability for the unremitted tax averages $1,000 or less per month, or does not exceed 5 percent of the total amount of tax liability for which the tax was collected for the period in which the tax was due, whichever is greater.

The bill further provides relief from the proposed penalty if the Board finds that the person's failure to timely remit the tax was due to reasonable cause or circumstances beyond the person's control. The bill provides that "reasonable cause or circumstances beyond a person's control" includes, but is not limited to, any of the following that caused the person's failure to make a timely remittance:

- The occurrence of a death or serious illness of the person or the person's next of kin.
- The occurrence of an emergency, as defined
- A natural disaster or other catastrophe directly affecting the person's business operations.
- The Board failed to send returns or other information to the correct address of record.

- The person's failure to timely remit the tax occurred only once over a 3-year period, or once during the period in which the person was engaged in business, whichever period is shorter.
- The person voluntarily corrected errors in remitting the tax in prior periods and remitted payment of the liability prior to being contacted by the Board.

The bill would become operative January 1, 2007. Accordingly, a person who knowingly collected the tax on or after January 1, 2007 and failed to remit the tax would be subject to the proposed penalty, unless that person's failure was due to reasonable cause or circumstances beyond his or her control, as specified.

Background

During the 2005 Legislative Session, a similar measure, SB 323 (Migden), was vetoed by the Governor. That measure would have imposed a 50 percent penalty for a person's failure to timely remit sales tax reimbursement. In his veto message, the Governor stated the following:

"This bill creates a rigid and overly severe punishment for the failure to remit sales taxes which have been collected. I strongly support tough laws to punish and discourage scofflaws who knowingly evade taxes. However, this measure provides no flexibility for errors made by individuals with no intent to evade taxes or defraud the state. Moreover, the Board of Equalization does not contend that this bill would result in a specific level of increased compliance. For these reasons, I cannot support this bill."

COMMENTS

1. Sponsor and purpose. This bill is sponsored by the author. According to the author's office, the purpose of the bill is to enhance the penalty in cases where a retailer collects sales tax reimbursement or use tax from customers and fails to timely remit the tax to the state.
2. The April 5, 2006 amendment makes a technical nonsubstantive change. The March 29, 2006 amendments would 1) extend the proposed penalty to use tax knowingly collected and not timely remitted, 2) define "reasonable cause and circumstances beyond the person's control," and 3) make other clarifying changes.
3. Customers entrust retailers to remit the tax to the State. Proponents note that sales tax reimbursement or use tax paid to a retailer is generally regarded by customers as "fiduciary taxes" or "trust taxes." The customers perceive the tax they pay to retailers as the State's money, not the retailers'. Customers who pay sales tax reimbursement or use tax to a retailer trust and expect the retailer to send it to the state; otherwise they would have no obligation to reimburse or pay the retailer. When sales tax reimbursement or use tax is collected from a customer, the customers' perception is that the business is, in effect, acting as the agent for the state or local government, collecting the government's money from the customer and then paying it over to the government on a periodic basis. A failure of the business to do so should be subjected to enhanced penalties.

4. Bill addresses Governor's veto message of last year's SB 323. In his veto message, the Governor indicated that SB 323 provides no flexibility for errors made by individuals with no intent to evade taxes or defraud the state. Unlike SB 323, this measure provides several examples of reasonable circumstances that, if any one of them occurred and caused the person's failure to timely remit the tax, the taxpayer would be relieved of the proposed penalty.
5. Related legislation. SB 1449 (Migden) has also been introduced to impose a 50 percent penalty on a person who knowingly collected sales tax reimbursement or use tax and failed to timely remit the tax to the Board, except for reasonable cause, as specified.

COST ESTIMATE

Enactment of this bill could increase the Board's workload attributable to an increase in programming, billings for the new penalty and processing requests for relief. An estimate of these costs is pending.

REVENUE ESTIMATE

Enactment of this bill could increase compliance with the Sales and Use Tax Law, thereby increasing revenues. However, the magnitude of this increase is unknown.
